Re: Denial of Unemployment Compensation Appeal

Case Number: [Case Number]

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing this formal letter to ask that you appeal my denial regarding Unemployment Compensation from the State of Florida. This letter, dated [Date] stated that my former employer was contesting my compensation with the reasoning that I did not qualify for Unemployment Benefits.

My employer stated that I originally chose to quit my job but after meeting with her to discuss it further I was convinced to continue working there. I wish to state that this statement is 100% false and that it is merely an attempt by my employer to get out of having to pay for my Unemployment Benefits. I have attached detailed evidence to this letter proving this point.

My employer would give me unrealistic demands on the work I was conducting. Giving me impossible tasks and then reprimanding me that the task was not completed on time or to their complete satisfaction. In the attached severance contract I provided in this letter you can plainly see that I was fired from my job and given a severance package as compensation.

The attached documentation puts everything into perspective regarding my employer's calculated effort to deal with this issue outside of a courtroom. This, in addition to the unreasonably amount of tasks given and unrealistic expectations, demonstrates my employer's clear effort to get me to leave the company. After looking over the evidence that I have provided, I'm sure that you will also reach the same conclusion.

The applicable form that your agency requests has been filled out accurately and to the fullest extent of my knowledge. At your earliest convenience please take the time to look into this situation. Thank you for having time to look over both my letter and documented evidence provided with it. If you need to contact me, you can reach me by phone at [Phone Number] or by email - [Email Address].

Sincerely,

Joseph Smith
